50 Cents for 1600 Students

WUHS to Ask More Taxes

Goold Tells Chamber Trustees May Call An Election Next Spring

Townshippers probably will be asked to vote an extra high school district tax of 50 cents per $100 next May, Supt. J. V. Goold told members of the Centerville and Irvington Chambers of Commerce Monday.

Goold stressed the district may not have to raise quite that sum in addition to its present long-standing 75-cent rate. But he explained a sizeable extra amount will be needed to hire 30 new teachers in the near future, and to run a plant with 1600 students.

More than 1030 youngsters are registered now, Goold said, and within three years," he guesses the high school's $1,500,000 addition—to be started in the spring—will be crowded too. This eventually will mean a complete new high school.

"If you're going to invite more business and industry in, it's going to cost you more for education," the superintendent pointed out. He said the present school is designed for no more than 750 youngsters, and that it now employs 41 teachers.

"It's useless to have new housing and not be able to hire more teachers," he warned.

Reason for the expected request for more taxes, Goold said, is that athough Township assessed values went up $3,200,000 this year, this still brings the district only about $24,000 more. Thus it will have to forsake its 75-cent rate.

The veteran superintendent gave the lunching businessmen an earful, as he crammed fact after fact about the $1,500,000 addition into a rapid-fire talk in the high school faculty dining room. Said he:

1. He hopes to let bids in January, "to take advantage of falling construction costs." Finished plans are now being studied for approval by the State Architect.

2. Instead of enlarging the present cafeteria for $60,000, the school will build an outdoor "snack bar" for $15,000 to double its capacity.

3. Large new shop rooms will be added, to provide for new emphasis on teaching of manual skills. (See next column).

4. Garages will have to be enlarged to accomodate several new 73-passenger buses—to be purchased if the new tax is approved.

5. The school's projected L-shaped enclosed swimming pool will be open to youngsters all year 'round—and nighttimes too—for a nominal fee. "Too few local students know how to swim," Goold commented.

6. Other features of the high school annex will include nine tennis and four basketball courts, parking space for 350 cars, and three acres of irrigated pasture for ag-shop projects.

7. Banks of classrooms—19 of them to the south of the present school—each with individual lockers, will eliminate much of the present hallway confusion.

'Accent on Work'

Hi School's New Curriculum to Stress Trades

A revamped study program with more stress on manual arts already is taking shape at Washington Union Hi, Vice-Principal Irving Hird told a Chamber of Commerce luncheon this week.

Hird said more changes are planned for next year. This year's new features include:

1. One college preparatory biology course.

2. One competitive public speaking course.

3. One class in "personal management" for backward youngsters, to help them learn "how to get along on the job."

4. One class in business problems for senior boys.

Hird said contemplated changes for next year include:

1. Compulsory classes in vocational work for all freshmen boys.

2. Compulsory home economics studies for all freshmen girls.

"Ninety per cent of our students never go to college," Hird said. "Yet we aren't a 'vocational' school. Our industrial arts program has not been adequate, but next year we'll have the facilities, and we'll start teaching more 'pre-vocational' classes.

"Through this program, plus testing, we hope to screen out non-college material from college-preparatory courses and channel it into the vocational field."

The vice-principal said he took a course at San Jose State last summer to help him cope with problems imposed here by increased enrolment and a bigger school.

He commented of the "personal management" class, that other teachers already have noted "an improved attitude" from students enrolled there.

Hird said the "business problems" class was started to answer an appeal by local businessmen for trained boys.

Livermore-Pleasanton

ZONE 5 POLL JANUARY 12

A special election has been called in both Livermore and Pleasanton for January 12 to determine if those cities want to join Washington Township in Flood Control Zone 5.

Livermore city councilmen voted on Monday to call the election, and Pleasanton followed suit the next day.

Township interests already have declared they want a flood-control zone, which includes land here affected by the watershed of Alameda Creek. principally Niles and Centerville areas. However, conservation features of upstream dams make inclusion of the Livermore Valley desirable.

The zone must be formed prior to February 1 to be eligible for tax money during 1954. After formation of the zone, a bond election must be called to finance drainage and flood-curb work.

Livermore and Pleasanton have to vote on the formation of the zone first, however, since they are incorporated cities.

FATIMA FETE AT MISSION SUNDAY

The Sisters of the Holy Family extend an invitation to residents of the Township and their friends to be present next Sunday, October 25, at 2:30 p.m., at their Novitiate at Mission San Jose, and to participate in the Fatima Day Rosary Procession and Solemn Benediction of the Blessed Sacramtnt.

This Procession was to have been last Sunday, but due to the weather it had to be postponed. Weather permitting, it will be held this Sunday.

Newark Rezoning

The final word is expected November 5 on rezoning of Newark.

Alameda County Supervisors will hold a hearing on that date to determine whether to accept rezoning recommendations forwarded by the Planning Commission.

Gordon Cotton, zoning committee chief, told the Newark Chamber of Commerce Tuesday he believes industry representatives will protest a commission "compromise" moving residential zoning two blocks west of Spruce Street toward the Lavino plant.

BARTELL GETS PAT (OUCH!) FROM DOC

Niles' most outspoken Fairgoer, Dr. Tom Wilson, tried for the daily double Tuesday at the expense of his two favorite antagonists, Supervisor Harry Bartell and the County Fair racetrack.

To fellow members of the Chamber of Commerce, Dr. Wilson observed that Bartell has recommended eliminating racing at Pleasanton unless the State Race Commission restores two days it recently lopped off the coming 1954 meet. Said the dentist:

"In view of the fact that Mr. Bartell is doing his best to kill racing there altogether, I move we commend him for trying to bring the Fair back to its original purpose—the display of agriculture."

Amid ribald comment, Dr. Wilson's motion was put to a voice vote, then to a show of hands; and it carried, 7 to 6. Commented one member:

NILES CHAMBER DEBATES ZONING ALONG HIGHWAY

Objections to what one member termed "highway eyesores" near Niles were voiced at a pre-zoning session Tuesday of the local Chamber of Commerce.

Members were discussing whether the Hayward-San Jose Highway near their town should be zoned commercial or residential. They are to confer again next Tuesday with County Planning Director J. J. Thomas on final plans for protective zoning.

President C. W. Chrysler suggested that the strip north of the highway between the Southern Pacific and Sullivan underpasses ought to be allowed to remain in its present status—commercial.

Discussion then revolved around the land along the highway south of Alameda Creek... Two weeks ago a petition was presented to the Chamber by Mr. and Mrs. Keith Comfort, landowners at Morrison Avenue, asking a long strip be rezoned commercial.

Members agreed that the Mission Road Sanatorium and Niles Rest Home should be protected by hospital zoning. And some said they preferred residential zoning along the highway because highway stands commonly take on a run-down look.

"Highway business isn't profitable," Dr. Tom Wilson declared. "So then the proprietors let it run down and eyesores develop. I'd rather see it zoned residential."

Bain Leask asked that Thomas bring with him an exact definition of what commercial zoning means, "so that we'll know what we're talking about."

The lunch meeting adjourned without a recommendation, but Vernon Ellsworth, secretary, warned members to be ready with "a united opinion" next week when Thomas comes.

HUNTER DROWNS IN SALT POND WEST OF NEWARK

The treacherous salt ponds west of Newark claimed the life of a youthful hunter last Friday when he waded out to retrieve a wounded duck.

Drowned in a hidden 15-foot-deep channel only a few yards from shore was LeRoy Jiran, 14, freshman student at Washington Hi.

Deputy sheriffs climaxed a day-and-night search for the boy by recovering his body Saturday morning with grappling hooks.

LeRoy sank from sight seconds after he called for help. Two nearby hunters from Newark, Alvin Silva and George Marshall, came out of their blind some 400 yards distant when they heard him shout about 2:45 p.m. But they told officers they never saw the youth. On the bank by the huge pond they found Jiran's sweatshirt, shotgun and wallet, mute evidence that he had ventured into the murky pond. Nearby was one duck he had shot earlier, and close to shore was a crippled bird.

Young Jiran's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. James Jiran of 790 Elm Street, maintained a tragic vigil near the scene when their son failed to return from the hunting trip last Friday night. Officers under Detective L. R. Creighton combed the pond until dark. Two hunters, Joe Pine and Harold Janssen of Niles, dived in vain trying to locate the body.

The search was resumed Saturday morning, and deputies finally found Jiran lying in a tangle of weeds, some 15 feet below the surface, and 20 yards from shore. He was wearing only sneakers and a pair of shorts.

His body was taken to Chapel of the Palms.

The boy went out early Friday with a friend, LeRoy Bernardo, 15, of 688 Mulberry Street, Newark. Bernardo said Jiran left him to hunt alone, and that he returned shortly before 3 p.m. to work, without again seeing his companion.

The Jirans have three other children, John, 12; Stephen, 3; and Julie, 5. They came to Newark from Hayward about a year ago. The father is a cannery worker.

Services were held Tuesday from the chapel, with interment in Evergreen Cemetery, Oakland. Other survivors include the boy's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith of Oakland, Mrs. J. Bambas of Pasadena, and John Jiran of Illinois.

Juan Aviles Dies

Juan Aviles, 64, of 224 Sixth Street, Decoto, husband of Amelia M. Aviles, passed away at an Oakland Hospital Tuesday.

He was a native of Puerto Rico and a former employee of Pacific States Steel.

Services will be held Friday from his late residence under the services of Berge Mortuary Company, Niles. Mass will be said at Holy Rosary Church, Decoto, and interment will be in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, Hayward.

United Crusade

Industry, Business, Schools Give Almost $20,000 to Fund Appeal

The United Crusade fund appeal in Washington Township was almost halfway over the top this week, Campaign Manager Peter D. Juhl reported today.

Juhl estimated $18,500 of the Township's $40,000 approximate quota has been collected, with the residential drive just starting.

He reported $15,000 has been contributed by local industries and their workers; and that stores and schools have kicked in another $3,500.

Industries are expected to deliver another $15,000 and the stores and schools about $1500 more. Balance, or around $5,000, will come from the home solicitation, Juhl predicted.

The chairman expressed himself as well pleased by the first two weeks' showing. He added two requests to Township donors:

1. "Please remember that solicitors are volunteers, and are busy people themselves, and don't keep them waiting when they call.

2. Don't hold your check until they call a second time: mail it to United Crusade headquarters.

First Township firm reporting 100 per cent participation in the United Crusade was Kimber Farms. Don DeForest, in charge of the drive there, said yesterday 91 employees and management contributed a total of $2834.50.

NO CITYHOOD FOR NEWARK UNTIL '55

"There's not even a remote chance Newark can incorporate as a city during the next year," Gordon Cotton, chairman of the town's incorporation-study committee told the local Chamber of Commerce Tuesday.

Cotton said (1) too many time-consuming legal technicalities must be surmounted before an election could be held, and (2) public opinion and that of tax-producing industries "while it's favorable," isn't crystalized yet.

He pointed out there isn't time to prepare for an election in December. This would be necessary if Newark was to achieve cityhood by February 1, deadline for getting its share of 1954 tax money.

Cotton hinted the chamber ought to do some groundwork among the town's 4000 citizens, and added the industries need time to present the idea to their boards of directors.

He reported on a dinner hosted by his committee last week in the International Kitchen, at which appeared representatives of Leslie and Morton Salt Companies, Rheem Manufacturing, Westvaco Chemical, Orangeburg Manufacturing Co., E. J. Lavino & Co., the Southern Pacific Railroad, Berchem Meat Co., Newark Porcelain Enamel Co., and Sunset Foundry.

Cotton said his committee didn't press the industrialists for an immediate answer. But he said their reaction to his explanation of cityhood "appeared friendly," adding:

"I felt any negative attitude they might have had had been definitely modified, if not changed." Cotton said his committee has been asked to meet again with several of the factory spokesmen.

Meantime, he said, he and his committeemen — Edward O'Mara, Charles Snow and Tony Martin—will explain the facts of incorporation further to local groups.

Services were held Tuesday from Berge Mortuary Company, Niles, for Rose Titus, 65, 248 H Street, Niles, who died October 16 in an Oakland hospital after a long illness. Interment was in Santa Clara City Cemetery with Rev. C. W. Kirkpatrick officiating. Her husband, Frank Titus, survives.

$300,000 in Zone 6 Bonds Will Launch Flood Work by Summer

County flood control officials, jubilant over last week's bond election victory in the Irvington area, today prepared the next steps aimed at starting drainage construction in the spring.

Herbert C. Crowle, county flood control engineer, said "about $300,000 worth" of the $1,743,000 bonds voted will be sold as soon as legally possible, probably in February.

They will be used to finance initial projects, such as the widening and deepening of Laguna Creek, which flows through Irvington, and improvement of its outlet from Stivers Lagoon.

Crowle also said first-year projects will include improvement of two small creeks near Warm Springs which flow across the Eastshore Freeway, rapidly being completed from San Jose to Warm Springs.

In addition, the engineer said in an interview with The Register, surveys and purchases of rights-of-way for drainage canals will begin as soon as the bonds are sold.

The Zone 6 bonds needed a two-thirds majority to pass and achieved that with a margin of only eight votes to spare, 522 to 254. Only four absentee ballots were recorded, and these did not affect the outcome.

To the north, Zone 3-a (Hayward - Alvarado - Hillview Crest) bonds passed by a 4-1 margin, and so did a smaller issue in Russell City.

Gift of Incubator to Township Hospital Brings Endowment Hopes

The generosity of a Centerville widow has led the Washington Township Hospital District to hope that it may some day be partially equipped through donations of local residents.

L. S. Whitaker, chairman of the district, disclosed Mrs. Alexander Blaikie Hill recently contributed the first sum—an undisclosed amount — toward the purchase of an incubator for pre-mature babies.

"It is our hope that others will be inspired to do the same for our community hospital," Whitaker said today.

The $1,250,000 structure was approved by voters last fall. Whitaker expects to call for contractors' bids by January. Blueprints drawn by the Niles architectural firm of Sorenson & Ellsworth are now undergoing State scrutiny.

Mrs. Hill's donation was to purchase an Isolette, famed for saving the lives of up to half the premature infants born in the nation's 1257 hospitals which own Isolettes.

"Although the Washington Township Hospital will be stocked with the best and most complete medical equipment we can afford," Whitaker explained, "many expensive devices necessarily will have to be left out."

"For this reason, our directors hope that others may be moved to follow Mrs. Hill's example. Individuals in many other localities have endowed hospital beds, or whole rooms, to reduce expense to the hospital and patient."

Mrs. Hill is the widow of a prominent rancher who died last year.

WAR THREAT BLOCK TO EUROPE, CLAIM

Incentive can be restored to Western Europe only if the threat of invasion is removed from European minds, a British professor told the Niles Rotary Club last Thursday.

Dr. Geoffrey Edelman, Rockefeller Fellow at the University of California, stressed that Europeans have lost the will to plan and work for the future under the impact of recent wars and threats of war.

"We just don't see the point of trying to look ahead 20 years," the speaker said. "There's little hope of changing this attitude until the threat of war is removed."

Dr. Edelman was introduced by Virgil Young. Welcomed as a new member of the service club was John G. Pihl, manager of the American Forge Company.

Stivers Estate

The estate of Edward Stivers, 75, pioneer Niles resident and ranch owner, is valued at $104,052 in an appraisal filed in Alameda County Superior Court.

Under terms of a will dated September 26, 1951, Stivers, who committed suicide on June 8, left his money, stocks and bonds to a sister, Miss Anna M. Stivers, 81. The balance, including extensive land holdings, goes to five nieces and nephews: Roth Millard, Leland Stivers, Mrs. Elizabeth Meyers, Marcella Stivers and La Verne Dickerson.

The seeds of the eastern hemlock are so small that several hundred thousands are required to weigh a pound.

Can you bake a cake? Are you interested in learning the latest cooking and home-freezing skills? . . .

Or are you curious to see the best in work-saving home appliances? And how would you like to win your choice of the finest gas range in the Township, or a Mixmaster, or an electric roaster?

All these choices are open to you next Wednesday and Thursday at the Washington Township Cooking & Freezer School and Appliance Show, which takes place in Washington Hi auditorium.

Door prizes for the show include a $300 gas range, an electric roaster and cabinet; and valuable appliances given by the seven participating dealers.

There also will be a Mixmaster for the best cake baked by an adult, another one for the best cake baked by a 'teenager; and also two electric handmixers and two sets of copperized Hallrite cakebaking kitchenware, one apiece for housewife and young lady entrant.

On display will be the latest in ovens, freezers, refrigerators, driers, sewing machines and other domestic appliances.

The show starts Wednesday at 7 p.m. with a Gas Cooking School, conducted by Esther Drell Day, home economist for the Pacific Gas & Electric Co. Door prizes will be presented at the conclusion of the school.

On Thursday, at the same time, an electric cooking and home-freezer school will be held under direction of Ann E. Cook, district home economist for the International Harvester Co.

On Thursday, cakes will be judged and prizes awarded at the school. The major door prize—the gas range—will be given away then.

Admission is free both nights. Sponsors are the local appliance dealers (see next column), the PG&E, the Northern California Electrical Bureau and the Gas Appliance Society of California.

BARTELL WILLING; NOBODY ASKED US

Foiled in his try to get Alameda County re-districted into "islands" of votes favorable to incumbent supervisors, Supervisor Harry Bartell last week turned to a different pattern.

At a Board meeting, the Alamedan suggested he would be happy to extend his district south to take in San Lorenzo and Niles.

Nobody took Bartell up on the offer, least of all Supervisor Chester E. Stanley, who represents Washington Township, and who has said he prefers to keep his district unchanged.

Stanley has been trying vainly to get the four city-dwelling supervisors together to agree on boundary shifts in their districts, some of which have grown much larger than the others, population-wise.

Yule Plans Set

Plans for Christmas in Newark this week went forward under Chamber of Commerce sponsorship.

The chamber agreed to (1) buy lights and erect a 12-foot tree at Thornton and Sycamore, and (2) contribute $50 if the local PTA holds its traditional Christmas party.

PANTHERS LEAD

The Santa Clara Panthers took over undisputed first place in SCVAL standings last week as they blanked Mt. View 6-0. The Panthers now have a 2-0 mark in league play.

Washington and Campbell went into a tie for second place as the Huskies tripped James Lick 19-18, while the Bucs played a 13-13 tie with Fremont.

The Bucs, paced by all-SC VAL Back Bill Gregg, had to come from behind

PUPS BLANK LICK B's IN 20-0 TILT

Whitewashing the James Lick lightweights, 20-0, last Thursday, the Washington Hi Puppies remained in a tie for first place in SCVAL "B" competition.

The Junior Huskies are deadlocked for the top spot in the B race with the Santa Clara Panthers. The clubs will find out who is stronger tomorrow night as they face the Panther eleven on the local gridiron. The undefeated Panthers have scored victories over James Lick and Mt. View

Getting back to last week's contest, the Puppies found the Comet defense a little rough, but with the aid of fumbles, managed to score three times.

Their first touchdown came early in the second period when the Comets fumbled on their own 25 and the Pups recovered. On second down, Quarterback Bob Hird hit Fullback Tino Rangel with a short swing pass and Rangel moved the ball to the one-yard line before he was knocked out of bounds. Hird then went over for the six points on a quarterback sneak. John Adams' attempted conversion was blocked.

The young Washingtons widened the margin to 13-0 before the half's end. With the ball on the Comet 28, Hird flipped a pass to End Art Anchundo in the end zone for the score. Adams converted.

The final seven points came midway in the fourth period. With the ball on the Comet 30, Hird, who completed 10 out of 15 passes, passed to Halfback Ed Fletcher.

The pass was incomplete, but pass interference was called on the Comet safety man, and the Pups got the ball on their opponent's two. Two plays later Rangel crashed over center into the end-zone but fumbled as he crossed the goal. Richard Bettencourt, Washington tackle, recovered the fumble for a TD. Adams again converted.

Kickoff time for tomorrow night's important contest is 6:00.

Huskies Do It Again! Upset Lick on Alert Line Play, Improving Backs

By BOB HIRD

Counted out of the SCVAL race by pre-season dopesters, Washington Hi's scrappy eleven provided a foretaste of Stanford's unexpected win one day early, with a one-point Friday night victory over favored James Lick, 19-18.

The Huskies will be looking for their third straight upset tomorrow night when they play host to the league-leading Santa Clara Panthers.

The local club struck fast against the Comets, scoring all three touchdowns in the first half, with the aid of two blocked punts and a fumble.

The initial Washington tally came in the first quarter when hard-charging forwards blocked a kick on the Comet 25-yard line. The Orange and Black moved the ball to the seven where Dan Rodarte took a pitchout from Frank Velarde and scampered into the end zone for the score. Art Goularte added the extra point, which turned out to be the game winner.

The Malemutes turned the same trick again at the start of the second period as Conrad Preciado blocked a punt on the Comet's two. The Lick line held for three plays but on fourth down, the hard-running Velarde swept left end for six points. Goularte's conversion went wide.

About two minutes after their second touchdown, the hustling Huskies got another.

The Comets had the ball on their own 15, but the versatile Velarde picked a fumble out of the air and moved it to the three. Two plays later Rodarte bulled his way over from the one. Gouarte's conversion was no good, but the locals led, 19-0.

The Comets picked up their first tally midway in the second period when Quarterback Ron Gonzales hit End Ed Brewer with a 20-yard touchdown pass. The try for conversion fizzled.

Then James Lick closed the gap to 19-12, just as the half ended. Pass interference was called against the Huskies, on their own 1-yard line. Gonzales then went over on a quarterback sneak.

Just as the gun sounded ending the third period, the Comets recovered a fumble on the Huskies' four. On the first play of the final period Gonzales again scored on a sneak, making the count 19-18. Gonzales tried to score the game-tying point as he hit right tackle, but was stopped short of the goal.

Tomorrow night's contest between the Huskies and Panthers is the feature game of the SCVAL. The Huskies again will be the underdog, as so far this season the Panthers have not been scored upon in league play. They have beaten James Lick 13-0, and Mt. View 6-0.

Kickoff is set for 8 p.m.

Score by quarters:

Washington	7	12	0	0	—19
James Lick	0	12	0	6	—18

'C' TEAM SPLITS

Washington High's C quintet split a pair of league games last week as they boosted their league mark to 2-1 for the season.

Coach Don Wolfe's Cs lost a thriller to Fremont, 42-40, then bounced back to defeat the Santa Clara hoopsters, 42-26. George Mahusay and Monico Paler with 13 and 12 points respectively, led the C attack in their win over the the Panthers.

The Husky Ds were not so successful. They dropped both contests, losing to Fremont 29-8, and Santa Clara 37-16.

America's First Sports Car Reaches Market

One of the most widely discussed automobiles—the Chevrolet Corvette—has been placed in distribution. A two-passenger open model (with removable top), the car is the American auto industry's first sports car and the first to carry a plastic body built by mass production methods. The Corvette measures only 33 inches high at the door. Wheelbase is 102 inches. Traditional Chevrolet features include a special 150-horsepower "Blue-Flame" engine and a Powerglide automatic transmission. Production followed special showings of an experimental model in many cities.

U.C. Graduate Students to Make Trial 'Plan' for Mission-Irvington

Twenty-one graduate students from the Departments of City and Regional Planning, the School of Architecture and the School of Landscape Architecture, University of California, are studying the problems of urban expansion in hte Irvington-Mission San Jose area this fall, and will prepare a comprehensive, general plan as part of their academic programs.

The project is being carried out under the general direction of Prof. Francis Violich of the Department of City and Regional Planning and Prof George Downs of the School of Architecture, UC.

"The Irvington-Mission San Jose area was selected for study by the faculty because it provides the students with a unique opportunity for an objective study of a rural-county area on the verge of change, and an opportunity to prepare a comprehensive, general plan for the area based on predicted change," Prof. Violich says.

The students and faculty have asked for the cooperation of persons and agencies concerned with the development of the area in assisting the students to gather material and in personal contacts. The Alameda County Planning Commission has been informed of the project and has offered its cooperation.

The semester's work will proceed in five stages. The first stage, which is now being concluded, has been one of orientation concerning major problems, and location of material for further study. Phase II will be devoted to assembling and evaluating material and establishing the need for further studies.

During Prase III the architectural students develop studies of proposed buildings, while the City Planning students will prepare and execute studies of traffic circulation, the uses of land and other problems of the area.

Phase IV will be the plan-making stage, resulting in what the students believe to be the most appropriate plan for the area. Phase V will be the preparation of a report which will be submitted to the combined faculty of the Architecture and City Planning Departments for judgment and evaluation. The report then will be released to the public, probably in February.

A similar project was undertaken last year in Lafayette.

"It should be emphasized that this project is an academic exercise and is not intended to reflect the current studies or thoughts of the official planning agency for this area," Prof. Violich says.

It is anticipated that members of the student group will be contacting county officials and local residents in the immediate future. Tom Niederkorn, graduate student, will be project director.

The conservatory in Golden Gate Park is modeled after Kew Gardens in London.

X-RAY UNIT GOES TO CENTERVILLE

The mobile x-ray unit of the Alameda County Tuberculosis and Health Association will be in Decoto and Centerville this week and next week to complete the current Washington Township minifilm chest x-ray survey, Mrs. J. R. Whipple, general chairman, has announced.

Free minifilm chest x-rays will be taken of persons 15 years of age and over from Thursday through Saturday of this week in Decoto and from Tuesday through Saturday of next week in Centerville.

In Decoto, where Dr. Harold Schoenfeld is survey chairman, the Christmas Seal X-ray truck will be operating on Thursday and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., and on Friday from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Hours for next week's five-day Centerville survey, of which Mrs. Allan Walton is chairman, will be from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. each day.

No appointments for the x-rays are necessary, it was pointed out, and persons x-rayed may expect to be notified as to the results in about two weeks.

During the first four days of the survey, a joint project of the TB Association and the Alameda County Health Department, a total of 690 persons were x-rayed.

This total included 133 in Mission San Jose, 357 in Irvington and 200 in Alvarado.

The Irvington total for that community's one-day survey is a record for the area, according to a TB Association spokesman.

GETTING THE WORD—Residential campaign chairmen for the Washington Township United Crusade find out how to "sell" homeowners on the drive, under way here this week, from Edward Enos, Niles postmaster, who is a member of the speakers' bureau. BARTELLS HURT IN CAR CRASH HERE

Supervisor Harry Bartell suffered a broken leg late Sunday in an automobile collision on the Hayward-Niles highway one-half mile north of Decoto.

Bartell was a passenger in a county car driven by his wife, Emma W. Bartell, 65. Mrs. Bartell suffered cuts and bruises and minor chest injuries when she hit the steering wheel. Both were taken to Highland Hospital.

The Bartell automobile collided in the center lane with a car driven by Rumado L. Pedraza, 27, Santa Clara. Pedraza and two passengers, Jose Garcia, 27, and Vidal Pena, 28, both of San Jose, were treated at Fairmont Hospital for minor injuries.

Both cars, traveling in opposite directions, were apparently passing other automobiles ahead of them when the accident occurred, highway patrolmen said. No citations were issued.

Faces Murder Rap

Seferino T. Rios, 27-year-old Mexican "wetback," last Friday was ordered to face trial for murder in Superior Court for the bludgeon-slaying of a companion near Alvarado last month.

Rio appeared before Judge E. A. Quaresma here. He is accused of fatally beating Agostino Quintero, 27, also an illegal immigrant, after a midnight argument in a labor camp.

A NEW APPROACH?

It generally takes somebody from out of town to show us short-sighted tree-gazers what the forest looks like. So it may be with a suggestion handed your editor a few days ago by a young utility executive from the East. This man spent a few days around Niles, and he saw it through new eyes.

Said he: why spend your energy trying to bring more factories here? Niles is a natural for something even better: the administrative offices of big companies. Back East, these companies are moving out of the skyscrapers and into the villages of upstate New York, and Connecticut. The reason? They want their workers to be contented. They figure that they'll be happier if they work in the same community. where they live, and don't have to spend a couple of hours or more every working day commuting back and forth.

Therefore, our informant says, many of the large insurance and industrial firms have established their main offices in outlying "garden cities." There the help can live within walking distance of the treadmill, and the treadmill itself is located amid attractive surroundings, removed from traffic and noise, from rush and rat-race.

This makes sense in New York, and if you drive across the Dumbarton Bridge, you'll see it's starting to make sense in Menlo Park and Palo Alto too. Handsome, home-like offices of several San Francisco firms already have been located in the oaks, and more will follow.

The Niles-Centerville area, we agree, is a natural for this sort of decentralized development. In the sun-touched orchards, the nurseries, next to the garden cities of 1955 and 1956, why couldn't we find the offices that now draw suburbanites into Oakland from Monday to Saturday? The resources are here. It's only a question of opening the right eyes to the possibility.

SIGN OF MATURITY

America must be growing up. Two shocking crimes have been detected in the past few weeks, and except for a few penny-dreadful columnists, no one has suggested the chief suspects be lynched. Heartsick though we may be over the crimes, we are willing to place our confidence in the law and the courts to make sure that justice is done.

What a contrast to the America of 40 or even 20 years ago! We recall as in a nightmare seeing two babbling prisoners hauled from a jail not 20 miles from here and hanged in a public park. That night's work left a deeper stain on the vigilantes than ever it did on the memories of the wretched kidnap-murderers. Its sanction by a suet-headed governor was an eternal disgrace to our State.

Hall and Santo may be as guilty as Lucifer. Off the evidence, we think they are two of the coldest-blooded fiends since Ghengis Khan. But American willingness to have the last shred of doubt removed before executing them is a heartening sign of national maturity.

EIGHT VOTES

By no bigger margin than Stanford beat UCLA, the bonds that will bring flood control to the South Township squeaked by last week. Only a phenomenal 51-percent turnout at the polls saved them from defeat. The victory is a tribute to the hard work of the farsighted element, and the "no" votes remain a rather astonishing testimonial to the power others still can muster to resist progress.

At this point, we'll concede that the word "progress," defined as mere beanstalk growth, doesn't necessarily mean a forward motion in the direction of greater good for the greater number. In the case of our Township, however, a bright future is at last in sight, not only for farmers and townsfolk who have suffered flood damage, but for everyone whose job and family depends on continued growth and prosperity of this favored region.

We have come so far—or mayby you prefer to say we've been pushed so far—that there is now no turning back. It would be a major tragedy, expensive to us now and doubly expensive later, if the Township weren't able to take advantage of growth when growth was ready, simply because a few folks wanted to keep the area a sleepy backwater for personal reasons.

How much better it is to grasp opportunity at the first offering than to let it slip by because you're afraid somebody else might profit from the mutual benefit!

IRVINGTON 'GRAB' POSSIBLE TOO, SAYS NEWARK

A Newark spokesman this week not only denied plotting a land-grab against the Irvington School District, but hinted Irvington might be in a position for a raid of its own.

Gordon Cotton told the Newark Chamber of Commerce:

"We have no intention of invading anyone's domain. But I might point out that Irvington's School District has invaded our fire district (which was extended to PG&E Road in 1931 — seven years before the Irvington School District boundary was moved northwest to the outskirts of Newark).

"Supposing Irvington incorporates to the edge of its school district? Then it could take in our fire district—and maybe ask for its share: a wheel off an engine or a hose, or something."

Cotton hastened to reassure both factions that he doesn't forsee any land-grabbing on either side. He pointed out that unless Newark takes a second step and forms a "fifth-class" city, administration of existing districts will remain as-is. He termed fifth-class cityhood "unlikely," saying that there are only two in California.

Irvingtonians, alarmed by a resolution of their Chamber of Commerce, are reportedly preparing a petition of protest to the Supervisors about Newark's proposal to incorporate to the limits of its fire district, which ends at PG&E Road.

A copy of the Irvington resolution was read at the Newark Chamber session, and was filed with the promise to "give it full consideration in our future studies."

SUICIDE DRINK FOR DECOTO MAN

A 58-year-old Decoto man, an apparent suicide victim, died Tuesday as a result of drinking a poisonous germicide.

Pedro Salas, 708 Ninth Street, Decoto, died at a local hospital a few minutes after being admitted for emergency treatment.

His son, Thomas Salas, 25, 134 Ninth Street, Decoto, said his father had been despondent and had been unsuccessful in another suicide attempt about four months ago.

Besides his son, Thomas, Mr. Salas is survived by his widow, Margarita; a daughter, Mrs. Herlenda Custa, and another son, Eddie, all of Decoto. He was employed at Pacific States Steel.

Services will be held Saturday at 10 a.m. from Berge Mortuary Company, Niles, with interment in Mt. Eden Cemetery.
